

Spring Exhibitions Opening Reception: Friday, April 17, 2015, 6-8pm Then & Now: Ten Years of Residencies at The Center for Book Arts

Organized by Alexander Campos, Executive Director & Curator, Center for Book Arts.

This exhibition examines two of the Center's core residency programs: the Artist-in-Residence Workspace Program and the Scholarship for Advanced Study in Book Arts. As part of the Center's 40th anniversary year, selected works will be shown from more than 60 artists who participated in these programs over the last ten years. For each participating artist, a work made during their residency will be shown along with a new work demonstrating their continual interest in the art of the book.

Artists include Manuel Acevedo, Tomie Arai, Katie Baldwin, Stephanie Beck, Emily Blair, Terry Boddie, Amy Chan, Cecile Chong, Ana Cordeiro, Cesar Cornejo, Donald Daedalus, Aurora De Armendi, Prudence Dudan, Dahlia Elsayed, Nicholas Dumit Estevez, Frances Gallardo, Chitra Ganesh, Hadassa Goldvicht, Tal Halpern, Josh Harris, Pablo Helguera, Wayne Hodge, Kyle Holland, Winnie Huang, Yoko Inoue, Katarina Jerinic, Jennie C. Damali Abrams, Emmy Catedral, Heidi Lau, Eto Ottigbe, and Seldon Yuan: 2014 Artists-in-Residence

This group show features new works by recipients of the 2014 Artist-in-Residence Workspace Grant during their year-long residencies at the Center.

Artist Talk: Friday, May 8, 6:30pm

Linda Carreiro: Inside Out of Words

Employing Jacques Derrida's concept on "the inside out of language," Carreiro underscores that text is a construct, a material that can be formed and re-formed; when removed from the pages of a book, the words can be viewed as unfixed, malleable material.

Artist Talk: Friday, June 26, 6:30pm

Exhibitions on view through June 27, 2015
